REFERENCE LEONIE SCHILLER

To whom it may concern

I have had the great pleasure of working closely with Leonie during her role as product design and development assistant at Strawbees from the beginning of September 2020 to the end of January 2021.

Leonie consistently showed strong creative, innovative, organisational and teamwork skills and always completed her tasks quickly, efficiently and in a positive manner.

Leonie's key focuses were education content design and development, prototyping, graphic design, photo and video material for the learning platform, curriculum-aligned booklets and marketing & branding media across both teams product development and marketing.

Leonie always maintains an above and beyond work ethic and will do whatever it takes to complete a task well and initiates projects independently. She would be an asset to any company and I have absolute confidence in recommending her!

Sincerely,
